my fear ~~can't~~ can't stop me

No matter how strong or how old we are, we all have fears that rule over our life. Even a slightest possibility of our fears coming true makes us terribly weak and vulnerable. Not being able to fulfill my dream is my biggest fear. All I want from my life is to fulfill my dream & live the life that I have dreamt of. The fear of not being successful haunts me everytime. Whenever I see around myself the people who are successful ~~are~~ all treated like kings that get all the attention and respect which I think everyone deserves but the person who is unsuccessful is left unnoticed, the person is tortured and taunted throughout the life even their existence becomes a misery. The efforts that we put in doesn't count. What people see is how successful the person is. This scares me. I don't want a life where my own existence is questioned. I want to become an ideal child ~~and~~ for my parents and make them feel proud. ~~Hard~~ Hard work is the key to success, if we work hard we can do anything and achieve anything but still we all have the fear of failing. ~~Even~~ though I fear failing, ^{but} this fear doesn't stop me because I think positivity and hard work is all that a person needs to be successful and I really believe that if the person has the will to ~~do~~ ~~the~~ ~~thing~~ achieve his goals and run after it then no one can stop them and if the person doesn't have the will or the self confidence then the person is already out of the race. My parents have always taught me being happy matters and nothing else. They have taught me to work hard and run after my dreams. They are my constant support, whenever I feel disheartened they are with ~~me~~ me to push me and help me.

recognize my own strengths. A person should never let the fear of future take away the peace and happiness of the present. Fears can be overcome by guidance and a positive attitude. A person should never let his fear control him.
